Creating Our Energy Future

Guide for Curriculum Unit 81.05.10
by Beverly Stern

“Creating Our Energy Future” is an introduction to ecology and to dealing with an environmental issue. The material is divided into three parts: (1) the natural environment and ecosystem concept, (2) five important areas needed for understanding the energy issue and (3) an exploration of different possible energy futures. The emphasis is on how each person affects and is affected by the environment.

(Recommended for 9th grad Environmental Issues.)
